

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

An on-line pharmaceutical ordering system enables the transmission of pharmaceutical orders by the Internet. Electronic drug delivery appliances that administer
5 or dispense drugs and supplies are equipped with data network interface circuitry by which refills of supplies can be ordered without patient or doctor intervention. In an another embodiment, a medical service provider can electronically order supplies for or by the patient. On-line validation insures legitimacy of an order.

10004662